Who We Are

Since 1998, IRIS Networks has been the area's leader in bringing next-generation data services, diverse middle-mile solutions and powerful broadband access to the underserved in Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Virginia, and Georgia. Our commitment to excellence permeates the entire IRIS organization. It extends from our front-line crew to our leadership team, and we are dedicated to providing unmatched customer service with agility and integrity.

Today, IRIS's powerful infrastructure comprises over 5,000 miles of advanced optical network, to 250 communities, using a highly scalable backbone monitored 24/7/365. As a fiber-based service provider, IRIS is an ideal partner for complex data networks as we sell dedicated point-to-point broadband transport for voice, video and data at speeds between 20Mbps and 400Gbps to competitive local exchange carriers, Internet service providers, long-distance companies, wireless telecommunications service providers, enterprises and SMBs.
